RE: Field Inspection of the Iron Mountain Mine, PRO/021/008, Iron County, Utah

On September 11, 1986 Dave Wham and I visited U. S. Steel's Iron Mountain Project. The mine was operating and it appeared to be clean and well organized. Conversation with the site's foreman revealed that they had been shut down since July 30, 1986 and that they were making a one week test run of their wet magnetic separator. The mine does not plan on operating on any regular basis until the Geneva Steel Mill in Provo resumes operations.
